SPOTLIGHT ON A...

UNIVERSITY

"The Achievement and Success Centre team have a proven track record of making a huge difference to students' marks. They know what it takes to succeed here at Hartpury and they also know that any student can learn those skills with the right support. We can offer learning support to those students with a specific learning difficulty, a physical or sensory impairment, medical condition or another specific difficulty." Find out more here.

EMPLOYER

"We are committed to creating an inclusive working environment based on fairness and respect. One that encourages talented people of any background to produce their best work of the highest quality. As a humane organisation, we embrace the skills, abilities, and knowledge, that only a diverse and inclusive workforce can provide, to create solutions, and give advice, that improves a society as a whole." Read ARUP's Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Policy here.

WORD OF THE WEEK

Social Action

When people come together in groups to improve their communities or tackle common concerns by giving their time, skills, and resources

A FACT ABOUT EMPLOYMENT

"Nearly half (47%) of young people had taken some kind of social action in the last 12 months. The most popular social action was helping to improve the local area (24%), followed by organising or signing petitions (22%) and campaigning or raising awareness (9%)."

SUCCESS STORIES

Dee So'oialo graduated from Hartpury with BSc (Hons) Equestrian Sports Science. She now owns her own business, a central base which offers a range of optimum performance services for both horse and rider to implement the elements required of successful equestrian athletes.

"I remember the first time I drove up the drive at Hartpury. I hadn't ever seen anything of that scale on the equestrian side of things."

"There isn't anywhere else that has the same level of facilities and expertise available.

There's a real community aspect to life at Hartpury and I wouldn't have completed my degree, or set up my business as effectively, without all the support from Hartpury's ASC team. After being diagnosed with dyslexia, I had plenty of support to help me understand how I learn. It was life-changing."
