

Year 7 Enterprise Week

Sports

On the last day of Enterprise Week, there were three different sporting events you could choose to compete in: basketball, rugby or hockey. Each class was representing their own house. 7Q and 7I were representing Chipsey, 7J and 7R were representing Manley, 7P and 7K was representing Brightwell and 7S and 7H were representing Washington.

Basketball was a tough match between Chipsey and Brightwell, however, it was a thrilling game and Brightwell came 1st in the end. And rightly so. For the rugby, Washington came 1st and for the hockey Brightwell came 1st. Student Luca declares “It was very well organised and super fun!!”

LGBTQ

On the Tuesday of Enterprise Week, the Year 7 students had an assembly about LGBTQ (lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and questioning). They watched a video that was made by NSB students to help them understand how everyone should be treated the same. They then went back to a classroom to learn all about LGBTQ and ask questions about it. We felt that we learnt a lot of information and new things about LGBTQ.

Engaging Education

On the Thursday of enterprise week, Year 7 had the chance to work with 'Engaging Education', a company that creates workshops for children. They learnt about British values in the morning and in the afternoon they had to: design a leaflet about British values, design a superhero that also represents British values and make a DVD cover about British values. The final thing the students had to do was, in their groups of threes, design an app that is related to Britain and then make a video about British values. Numerous Year 7 students said they enjoyed the experience very much.

Languages

On the Wednesday of Enterprise Week, Year 7 had learnt about the importance of languages and how it will impact on their jobs when they are older.

They split up into groups of four, were given different businesses from foreign countries and were given paper money to spend by buying foreign words for their country.
